

Major Keith Kirchhoff is a 32+ year veteran of the Kansas City Missouri Police Department. The majority of his career has been spent in criminal investigations. He has been a homicide detective and homicide supervisor, a sex crimes supervisor, and a robbery and homicide unit commander. He was previously the commander of the Metro Patrol Division, North Patrol Division, and the Special Investigations Division. He is currently the Violent Crimes Division commander, over all crimes against persons, including homicides, assaults, missing persons, robberies, sex crimes, domestic violence, crimes against juveniles, and the fugitive apprehension and arraignment section.

He has a Master of Arts in Public Affairs from Park University (2000), a Master of Science in Justice Administration from the University of Louisville (2016), and a Master of Science in Public Safety from the University of Virginia (2026). He graduated from the 124th Administrative Officer's course from the Southern Police Institute in Louisville Kentucky (2010) and attended the FBI National Academy Session 281 in Quantico Virginia (2022).

Major Kirchhoff is an avid sports fan, specifically baseball. He enjoys spending time with his wife and sixteen year old son, three adult stepsons, and four grandchildren.
