

Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) Tiffany H. Smith, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Investigative Genetic Genealogy (IGG) Program Manager

FBI Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) Tiffany H. Smith is an Investigative Genetic Genealogy (IGG) Program Manager. SSA Smith has served in the FBI for 18 years and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering as well as a Bachelor of Arts degree in Health and Kinesiology. Throughout her career, she has worked on the health care fraud task force and violent crime investigations. For over three years, SSA Smith has been an integral part of the FBI's IGG Program and is currently assigned to FBI Headquarters as one of the IGG Program Managers, while based out of the Houston Field Office.